Reading Promotion:

Reading promotion deals with promoting and developing a reading culture in our community with the strategies that develop literacy activities that range from providing opportunities that create readers, reading pleasures, and provide a diverse collection to all.

Story Time

As of Saturday January 21st, 2017, and every Saturday thereafter the Philipsburg Jubilee Library hosted their “Dutch is Fun” Story Time reading sessions for children. “Dutch is fun” is a Story time program that is full of stories, songs, and games in the Dutch language. The Story Time is aimed at young children aged 6 to 11. The object of “Dutch is Fun” Story time is to show how much fun one can have while reading and listening to Dutch stories in an interactive manner while at the same time learning to be fluent in the language.

Reading in any language is very important in the development of every child; thus the library regularly encourages parents to come out with their children and prove their active participation in the development of their children, and encourage not only reading, but also future usage of their library.

The Philipsburg Jubilee Library welcomed various community minded persons who volunteered their time to give back to their community. 2017 story readers were Elsje Bosch (Museum); Stephanie Deerveld (Teacher); Beverly Nisbeth; Mr. Hatzman; Mr. Neil Henderson; and Sarah van Dam (Teacher).

Literacy Program “SXM Reads”
Low literacy is a considerable social problem in our society. In 2017 our library continued the program aimed at creating awareness and finding support for persons with low literacy skills. Together with the COME Centre, UNESCO and the Rotary Sunrise Club, our library created the SXM READS platform in 2015. The Department of Social Services and Section Labor Market (SOD/SLM) supported SXM READS as well.

The three pillars of the ongoing literacy program were family reading nights, an adult literacy course and a recently added motivational reading and book giveaway.

Adult literacy Course:
The adult literacy course aims at helping persons with low literacy and language skills. This program spearheaded by Pattie Maier, Pamela Sims and Merlese Lake continued throughout 2017.

Motivational Reading and Book Give Away:
The SXM Reads platform embarked on a successful “Motivational Reading and Book Give Away” event during the month of January for the Dutch Quarter Community at the Plantz property; February Month in Cay Bay at Lucky Stables and Seaside Nature Park ownership of Roderick Halley and Ph.D. Alexandra van Luijken – Halley; and during the month of April for St. Maarten Senior Citizen Recreational Foundation under the leadership of President Marva Henson. The programs were filled with storytelling & folk tales by Papa Umpo aka Garfield Young; comedy by Relick Narcise Beauperthy; Sher’s Puppet Theater by Sherida Max, reading by Maryland Powell; poetry by Roberto Celestino Arrindell; music by Carlson Velasquez and Faith – “Fefe” Hyman, and handing out of books. These events were additionally sponsored by Windward Roads Infrastructure and Sjorensly Valies of Dworkshop Graphic designs.

Family Reading Night
In February, Lionel Conner Primary school participated in the Family Reading Night 2017. They enjoyed nice and cozy family reading nights that were scheduled at the library where parents were welcome to attend with their children. Students of Lionel Conner Primary, their Assistant School Manager Mrs. Alia Matthew-Young, and their parents were treated to a pre-presentation of “The Adventures of a coconut named Burt” by children's book author Judy Condon.

Family reading is a fun way to promote literacy. SXM Reads recognizes this and encourages reading as well as family participation. Investing in reading and making good reading choices while bonding with persons who understand the need to read is important.

Family reading night is a fun way to promote literacy and lifelong learning while supporting each other. Reading together creates a positive learning environment and helps children develop language skills, reading comprehension and a love for books that can last a lifetime.

Family reading nights help families learn what a wonderful resource the library is for their families. Children, as well as their parents, invested in reading and making good reading choices while bonding with SXM READ’s tutors, family, friends and the librarians.
Black History Celebrates “Passing on the legacy 2017” Week

The Philipsburg Jubilee Library highlighted during its annual Black History celebration one week of activities under our annual theme "PASSING ON OUR LEGACY". The primary focus of the Black History Week of activities were the achievements of St. Maarten’s elders and their continuous passing of our island’s history, culture, and legacy. The week events commenced on Saturday February 18th, 2017, and draw to a close on Tuesday February 28th, 2017.

The goal was to highlight, inform, and educate the general public of our St. Maarten history, our culture and our legacy as well the influence of international aspects of Black History Month world wide to continue passing legacies to the younger generations and to the generations to come.

On Saturday, February 18th, a workshop was given by instructor of National Institute of the Arts (NIA) Rudolph Davis teaching the steps of our local African Dance which included the St. Maarten Emancipation Dance “The Ponum”.

On Tuesday February 21st, and Wednesday February 22nd, at 6pm, the general public was invited to the viewing of the documentary “The March”: a documentary about the stand the African Americans took for human and economic rights. This was one of the largest political rallies ever in the history of the United States, the library also displayed “Slavery by another name”, a documentary that challenges the belief that slavery ended with the Civil War.

On Thursday 23rd, the program also included the Readers are Leaders platform (RAL) a collaboration of secondary school book club supported by the Philipsburg Jubilee Library and Rotary Sunrise Club. The Readers are Leaders club hosted its 7th annual Black History Month celebration featuring “BLACK IS THE NEW GOLD SHOW”. Various high school and the University of St. Martin students performed original pieces of our African Ancestry and Heritage in skits, dance, song, and all poetry lovers showcased their talents via the love of the spoken words.
On Saturday February 25th there was another similar one hour workshop with the dancer of Funtopia exposing the youngsters to modern aspects of African dance.

As an extra indulgence, the youngsters were treated to invited guess performing artists/musician and Sound Storyteller Mr. Ernesto Arrendell with his assistant Christel Klein, who conducted a free musical performance and workshop.

Ernesto Arrendell, an Arubian native, makes use of numerous instruments, found & daily objects and materials to create an artwork of sounds. Mr. Arrendell is a renowned percussionist and highly sought after musician throughout Europe.

The week of activities concluded with the screening of the documentary by Laura Bijnsdorp “BACK IN THE DAY: SINT MAARTEN”; a documentary about the lives on Sint Maarten sixty years ago. At the end of the viewing a panel discussion which included the following panelist speakers: Leonidas Friday, Chester York, and Carlson Velasques. Their experiences came alive as they took the audience to St. Maarten then and included the aspects of the current St. Maarten of today. After being inspired the audience promised to remembered our local heroes who pass on their legacy to the next generation of people. The Philipsburg Jubilee Library is always looking for new and entertaining ways to educate, via “Passing on our legacy” there was no difference. We are creating a better future to understand the past.
Easter egg Literacy Hunt:
On Saturday, the 15th of April, the annual Easter Egg Literacy Hunt event was hosted for 60 children ages 1-10 years at a cost of $6. The event like the previous year (2016) took place at the Vineyard Estate (one of St. Maarten’s monuments) in Philipsburg, from 10 am to 12.30 pm.
The Easter Egg Literacy Hunt program was a fundamental educational interactive event that exposed the children to “Sher’s Mak Puppet Theater” by Sherida Mak; where they learned the importance of reading in the context of the slogan “Reading together makes us stronger”. This slogan, which is taken from the PJL’s SXM Reads theme represented by Story teller Maryland Powell  Children’s librarian & Teen’s Librarian and student of the University of St. Maarten’s EDU- 350 Children’s Literature Spring Semester year 2017; retelling her created true story of “Mr. Cucoleee’s Pig”. As soon as the Easter bunny arrived, the egg hunt could begin with such activities as:

- Face painting
- Various games:
  - Pin the tail on the rabbit.
  - Jumping in the potato bag race
  - Egg in the spoon
- Grand Egg Hunt.

Participating Children were provided with refreshments and a special “goody” bag.

This event was sponsored by “Winter Garden” who provided the refreshments; the “Dedicated Brothers” for providing the usage of tents and chairs; and Caroline Mac-Illroy-Buncamper, the owner of the “Vineyard Estate” who donated the usage of the estate grounds; Shop for less: Easter bunny, and Funtopia’s face painters.
Read to Me: Baby and Toddler Campaign

The library has been providing the Read to Me activities since 2010 to motivate parents and caregivers to read to their baby or toddler as often as possible and to visit the library and register as a library member.

Throughout the year, as part of the “Read to Me: Baby and Toddler” activities there was storytelling, fun, and games for babies and their caregivers.

During Rhyme Time on Wednesday mornings, babies and their parents, or caregivers, sang along to many of the classic nursery rhymes. Additionally, during story time babies could listen to age-appropriate learning concepts through storytelling, while cultivating an enthusiasm for books and reading.

On April Wednesday April 12th, 2017 as part of the library's “Read to me” campaign, instructor Melackia Spencer organized an educational, exciting interactive Rhyme Time Easter Special egg hunt for the babies and toddlers ages 0 to 5 years. Besides the Easter Egg Hunt the children were also treated to storytelling, arts & craft, and games.
Aside from the ongoing Babies and Toddlers activity schedule, the library, in connection with the Babies and Toddlers Rhyme Time, was invited to participate on May 14th, 2017 at 3.15 pm for a fun day with the family at the first Annual Kids Expo; Play, Learn and Discover by 37 Adventures.

The Kids Expo was organized for the discovery of local, regional and international companies and organizations that provide products and services designed to enrich the lives of families.

The library staff members Daniel Helligar and Maryland Powell, along with Teacher Sharon B. Hassell presented a Readers Theater play: “Beauty and the beast” for ages 8 to 10.

Also featured that day was the University of St. Martin's (USM) aspiring students of EDU 350 - Children’s Literature Class 2017.
USM Puppet Show
The Philipsburg Jubilee Library (PJL), in collaboration with the University of St. Martin (USM) hosted their annual puppet show for children ages 4 to 10-year-old at the library on Wednesday May 10th, 2017, from 5.30pm to 6.30pm.

Five (5) aspiring University students of USM’s EDU 350 - Children’s Literature Class were assigned by the University of St. Maarten to prepare and execute a puppet show in front of a live audience as a part of their teaching certification. Their performance met the requirements for their Children's Literature course, as they worked towards obtaining their Bachelor’s Degree in Education.

The event consisted of two (2) shows. Both shows were performed by all the students.
   - “Dr. Seuss’s “Green Eggs and Ham”
   - “Anansi goes fishing”.

The aspiring five (5) student’s teachers which performed in alphabetical orders are:
   - Resheline Carty
   - Bianca George
   - Children's & Teens Librarian Maryland Powell
   - Jamila Ruan
   - Lorraine Sweeney

Literacy on all levels is the library's core component, thus it joined with the university in a collaborative effort to ensure that all children on St. Maarten are exposed to puppet shows that effectively reinforce existing knowledge and to communicate new information through interactive performances, which combat illiteracy and to reach children from an early age. Over 30 encouraged children came out and enjoyed a wonderful and educational event which fostered learning through storytelling.

Book Sales
There was one grand book sale in the library in 2017, held on Saturday November 4th, in the former PJL Café Lounge area. Hundreds of books for all ages were selected with a special selection of romance books, children’s books, educational, cook books, and more.

The book sale was intended to bring back normalcy to the library’s faithful patrons and all the book lovers in mind. With, of course, the added goal of encouraging reading among the community of St. Maarten, after the passing of Category 5+ Hurricanes, 2017, Irma and Maria.

The library staff and management were heartened to see the friendly faces. Many came out to support their library by purchasing books from their favorite author or topic.

Despite the catastrophe Hurricane Irma brought to our beautiful island and library we were able to raise NAF 733.62. Staff members handed out cupcakes as a token of their appreciation. There was a delightful ambience for all ages. The appreciation that was displayed in the patron’s faces when they purchased their books for their reading pleasure was indescribable. The book sales were truly community events. All of the money raised was to be used to fund library programs.

Book Launchings:
The Philipsburg Jubilee Library hosted a total of 4 book launches and 1 magazine presentation in the year 2017, which gave authors the opportunity to showcase their writing skills. Reading sessions and book signings are a great way to generate publicity and interest among readers and brings potential patrons to the library.

“Living Through 2016: Beyond Fiction”

On Thursday, January 19th, 2017, the first of the year’s book launches was done by Trinidadian native and inspirational Author J.K. Pascall, in collaboration with the Philipsburg Jubilee Library (PJL). The book presented was entitled “Living through 2016: beyond fiction”.

“Living Through 2016” presents itself as a soul’s expression of compassion. It is a partial memoir, and a time capsule as it recognizes 2016 as pivotal in our development, in his own pivotal year, the year Mr. Pascall turns 40. The book “Living Through 2016”, the authors first publication, is an inspirational guide to the seeker who is encouraged to take the long view of their own epiphany as an alternative route to unlocking one’s own gifts and heightening awareness and consciousness.

Author J. K. Pascall, who studied Sociology, promotes self-reliance and self-confidence needed to capture the flavor of our lives.

In addition, Mr. Pascall also managed to conduct a visit with the students of the Readers are Leaders Platform Board. Readers are leaders is a reading program organized and supported by the Philipsburg Jubilee Library and the Rotary Club of St. Martin Sunrise. Our collaborative goal is to promote literacy, specifically among high school students, and encourage readers to express their thoughts, feelings and ideas through writing.

“A Different Stick O'Fire: World War Two in the Caribbean, 4 Fragments of a forgotten Legacy”
On Friday May 12th, 2017, Mulberry Egstorf-Pantophlet (Author), in collaboration with the Philipsburg Jubilee Library (PJL), presented her book “A Different Stick o’Fire: World War Two in the Caribbean”, Fragments of a Forgotten Legacy, to the general public of Sint Maarten/St. Martin at 6 pm.

The publication was realized with the support of the Prins Bernhard Cultuurfonds Caribisch Gebied (PBCCG).

Egstorf-Pantophlet's motivation for writing the book is that oral reports, narratives and memories of the role played by the Caribbean in the global fight for “Freedom from tyranny” during World War Two, are gradually fading, as more and more informants are passing away. This compels those of us who have had any form of oral history pertaining to the war handed down to us by senior West Indians, to capitalize and expound on it, for the sake of future generations.

“A Different Stick O’Fire: World War Two in the Caribbean, Fragments of a Forgotten Legacy” was written for an audience of ages 12 to 80 and is a Read-Out-Loud book.

Mrs. Mulberry – Egstoff can recall during her childhood years on the Caribbean island of St. Maarten in the 1950s that she and her brother would occasionally hear elders (who had observed both world wars) speak about “when Hitler had sen’ submarines all de way down here” They would also relate how “dey had try to bomb Aruba!” and end with “Germans were out to rule de wurl, and down here too!”

Throughout Mrs. Mulberry – Egstoff’s presentation, she gave an overview of her book which indicated that the Caribbean region has its own authentic and compelling war-related narratives to tell. They too are positioned against the background of the looming threat of Nazi domination, which was the concern of every democracy-loving society at the time. Overseas territories and colonial rulers alike, were both up against a ‘common enemy’ who could only be defeated with combined efforts. In that respect the legacy of World War Two is a shared legacy.

This is the reason why the narratives in verse, are supplemented with quotes in the Dutch language. Together they form an introductory “mosaic” for a Caribbean approach to World War Two.

Mrs. Mulberry_Egstrof – Pantophlet presented complimentary books to the following institutions:

- Representatives of the Prins Bernard Cultuur Fonds Caribisch Gebied
Philipsburg Jubilee Library 2017

- Philipsburg Jubilee Library Director Monique Alberts & Public Relations Officer & Mistress of Ceremony Marylind Powell
- Sint Maarten’s National Heritage Foundation Museum; Representative: Sharine Baptiste
- Sint Maarten’s Academy Academic Section; Representative Mrs. Sharon Warner
- Milton Peters College; Representative: Symone Halley – Arnz

“Walking by Faith”

On Thursday, May 18th, 2017 Daniel Collins, one of 10 experts co-authoring “Walking by Faith” by Mike Rodriguez, presented his story “Goodbye, Mr. Mediocrity”, in collaboration with the Philipsburg Jubilee Library at 6pm.

Collin’s story documents his personal life-changing journey that began in August 2011, which altered his perspective transforming his life and bringing inspiration to others.
Daniel Collins’ motivation for writing his story is to assist people in recognizing that being like everybody else or being mediocre is not your own personal reality.

During his presentation Mr. Collins indicated that many times we as human beings do not get what is desired because we do not ask. Via his story “Goodbye Mr. Mediocrity”, Mr. Collins hoped to reach and play a positive part in other people’s lives assisting them with their growth.

The Author holds a Bachelors Degree in finance and economics from the Hanze and State University of Groningen. He is skilled in public speaking, training, coaching, leadership, budgeting, and writing. Collins keeps himself busy with various responsibilities which include overseeing the youth, finance and enjoys teaching classes at church where he serves as a deacon at the Good News Baptist Church.

“Tips for our Youth”

On Friday June 1st, 2017, Sergio Sno (Author) in collaboration with the Philipsburg Jubilee Library presented “Tips for our Youth” to the youth of St. Maarten.

“Tips for our Youth was born from the Authors personal experiences as he worked with young people in his native country Suriname and also here on St. Maarten. Remarks were given during the program by Vice Chairlady of the Council of Advice, Marvis Brooks Salomon and Pastor, Wycliffe Smith. The evening was a cultural and inspirational event.
During his introduction speech, Sergio Sno told his audience about losing his mother at the tender age of thirteen, how he took care of himself and still attained an education despite his circumstances. “Life was very hard for me”, he informed the youth, and however, he never gave up. He always had the belief that he could make it in life.

Sergio went further to reflect to his audience about his passion for music, his singing in several bands and choirs and how he eventually ended up directing several choirs, with which he traveled and won many awards. His continuous message to the youth was concerning his own life story, how he faced adversity as a teenager, faced with many temptations that could have led him down a road of self-destruction. Sno has attributed his success and his positive attitude to his relationship with God whom he got to know in a very personal way at the age of twelve. It was God who inspired him to collate these life-tips and to put them in this book “Tips for our Youth”.

Before settling in St. Maarten some ten years ago, Sergio lived and worked in Trinidad. However, wherever he went he found a church and usually ends up directing one of its choirs and working with the youth, giving them positive advice and helping them to find their path in life.

On Friday August 18th, Robert Espitia launched the much anticipated 2nd edition of “Where’s Where in St. Maarten (WWSM) to the public in a collaborative launching held at the Philipsburg Jubilee Library. The first copies were offered to the Director of the library and Assistant Circulation Supervisor and Facility Manager, Daniel Helligar. To highlight the community aspect of WWSM, several community leaders spoke at the event such as Rhoda Arrindell, Cassandra Richardson and vice president of the University of St. Maarten, Pastor Wycliffe Smith. These speakers all related how important community connections are, which is promoted through the information provided within the pages of the magazine. Robert Espitia described his labor of love and explained how best to use the maps and list of street names to find any location quickly and easily. Armed with a deep understanding of the community of St. Maarten and its important places, Espitia, who first arrived in St. Maarten 43 years ago, emphasized that the 2nd edition was aimed at empowering the locals of St. Maarten with valuable information and helping newcomers navigate throughout the Island –literally through the intricate full color Area Maps in the publication as well, the many monuments displayed throughout its pages as well as the 140 + important places with photos in the magazine. 250 magazines were given to the Philipsburg Jubilee Library to be made available for distribution to the library's patrons. Book Presentation:
There were three book presentations during the year 2017:

- “Chronicles of my deception: Kayla’s truth”
- “Dialogue from mind’s heart to yours”
- “Childhood Cultures series: Bouba & Zaza”
On Friday August 25th, 2017, “Chronicles of my deception: Kayla’s truth” by adult fiction author, Latoya Lake, was presented to the Philipsburg Jubilee Library by Windward Roads Infrastructure Assistant Head of Finance and Administrator and former Librarian of the Philipsburg Jubilee Library, Annelies Starreveld, to the avid readers of St. Maarten for their reading pleasure. “Dialogue from mind’s heart to yours”

“Childhood Cultures Series: Bouba & Zaza”
The Association for the Development of Education in Africa (ADEA) and UNESCO’s Regional Office in Dakar describes the book series Childhood Cultures as “an intergenerational African series of children’s books”. Through the experiences of the main characters “Bouba and Zaza”, the series seeks to develop life and socialization skills outside the family context among children. It is also aimed at parents, teachers, care takers and mentors.

The lesson and concepts include various topics as the issue of water resources and environmental protection; the HIV/AIDS pandemic; saying No to sexual advances; and moral values.

The Series are designed to assist communities and their children to discussion and find proper solutions for these problems. Addressing these spoken and unspoken topics will help the community and children to better adapt to their environment. The books assist with the improvement of children’s communication skills, their sense of responsibility and their ideas of justice.

These topics are affecting lives worldwide in the nearby Caribbean and of course Sint Maarten. As our cultures are entwined we can relate to some if not all these issues that the series “Childhood Cultures” discusses.

As we stay abreast of current events on our island, promoting literacy and knowledge and reaching children from all walks of life this series was gratefully received and was made available to the public.

Book Tour:

“De donkere tranen van zijn moeder” / “The dark tears of his mother”
From Monday 15th – Monday 29th May 2017, Children’s book author Hillie Arduin, author of the award winning books, “Ik neem je mee” and “Aboikoni”, in collaboration with the Philipsburg Jubilee Library did a book tour of her newest book “De donkere tranen van zijn moeder”. The book tour has been realized and supported by the Prins Bernhard Cultuurfonds Caribisch Gebied (PBCCG).

The author Hillie Arduin was born in Suriname and raised in Curaçao. She has lived and worked for almost 40 years in the Netherlands; maintaining ties with the Caribbean by being there regularly and taking part in the Caribbean society by working in education and literacy. Mrs. Arduin began her educational career in Curaçao at the Akademia Pedagogika (PABO), as an accomplished teacher. In 1973 she continued her studies in clinical remedial education (special education) and psychology. She obtained her doctorate in both disciplines at the University of Amsterdam, VU University and the University of Leiden.

A natural storyteller of fairytales and folktales, Hillie Arduin takes her listeners into a world of imagination when bringing her stories to life for her audience. The personalities, situations and illustrations are chosen so that children of the Caribbean recognize themselves in the stories and can relate to its characters. Hillie Arduin has been writing children’s stories since the 1980’s. In her previous books, such as for example: “Princess Ivana; the princess who did not want to comb her hair” a fairy tale helps Caribbean Children accept themselves and break free from the stereotypical ideal image that exists, and embrace the empowering motto “I am black, I’m proud”, and “Black is beautiful”.

The book of the year of 2013 in Surinam “Aboikoni” is a book where children express their hopes for the future, a future of freedom. The moral of the story “Aboikoni” being that they can pass on to their children and their children’s children their freedom, their pride, and their strengths. Her stories and poetry chronicle the lives of children who, although born into slavery, pursue freedom and a future beyond their chains.

“De donkere tranen van zijn moeder / “The dark tears of his mother” is a quasi-autobiography and a true story; A story that tells about the tragedy and the survival of the last three years of a dying young man. The character “Deston” (18) suffered from the disease, sarcoidosis, from which he dies at the age of 21. The book showcases the struggles of this young man who was too young to die, his family and his environment, and the struggles of his mother and their relationship. His mother “Florence” struggles with her own feelings as a protector even against the disease, death and the acceptance of the loss of her son.
Philipsburg Jubilee Library 2017

The story breaks taboos and lends itself to bring about discussions with young people about incurable illness and death.

Documentary Film Screenings: “THE MASK YOU LIVE IN” by Jennifer Siebel Newsom

On Thursday February 9th 2017 at 6 pm, Safe Haven and Safe St. Maarten / St. Martin, in collaboration with the Philipsburg Jubilee Library, hosted the informative and motivational screening of the documentary “the Mask you live in”.

The critically acclaimed film- the Mask You Live In, shed light on the experiences of young boys and older males growing up in a society and community that facilitates an insecure sense of masculine identity. Too often are our males confronted with phrases such as: “Be a man”, “grow some balls”, “don’t be a fag”, “don’t let your woman run your life”... on a daily basis in our households, on the street and practically everywhere in the community.

The documentary film screening and panel discussion was held to address the issues of masculinity, insecurities, and help empower our boys and men; especially in relation to partner violence, drinking, homophobia, depression, bullying and the stigmatization of male intimacy, as well as crime. The screening also addresses how we should raise a healthier generation of boys that will become men, who will learn to be emotionally connected and respect other human beings.

Following the screening there was an interactive panel discussion segment with guest panelist: Social & Cultural Anthropologist and Development Sociologist by training and President of University of St. Martin, PhD. Francio Guadeloupe. Dr. Guadeloupe gave a critique on the toxic masculinity, in the hopes of broadening the conversation about masculinity towards a more positive intent and as a tool which salvages and assists men to overcome these negative and harmful views and at the same time developing and celebrating masculinity.

Representative of the board of St. Maarten/St. Martin Alliance for Equality (SAFE SXM ) Mr. Laurent Druin Le May, in his speech, provided the perspective of gay men's masculinity and how toxic machismo is, as well as it being detrimental, discriminatory, and dangerous to the alternative of male masculinity, values, emotion, and compassion), and Managing director, MSc. Cassandra Richardson headed a panel which touched upon a wide array of issues that are important to the context of our island, such as: alcohol, homophobia, depression, bullying the stigmatization of male intimacy, and crime. The idea was to bring in a positive discussion with the community about the toxic views of masculinity, the kind we see perpetuated on this island, the causes and effects and the solutions. The abovementioned was followed by a question and answer segment.

Pertinent questions were posed which spoke about the standards that we force upon men and boys. The answers provided remained within the scope of the goal to get to the heart of the issue and find solutions for the betterment of our community. With this topic, presenters and panelists aimed at shedding light on the current situation in our community, – the unhealthy relationship between men and women and the impact that domestic violence has on country St. Maarten.

Hurricane Irma’s Impact

In 2017, the Philipsburg Jubilee Library was severely damaged after the passing of Hurricane Irma. Irma was the most devastating hurricane in history to present that has made land fall on the island of St. Maarten and also dealt the library’s building a catastrophic blow on Wednesday, September 6th, 2017.

Besides the devastation to an already aged structure, there had been an outcry for a new building several years ago. To add insult to injury, looters gained access to the building and wreaked havoc to make away with electronic equipment.

The library is the pillar of St. Maarten’s foundation; it is a private foundation that receives 1.2 million guilders in subsidy on an annual basis from the Ministry of Education, Culture, Youth and Sports; which covers the salaries and the purchasing of books. Special projects are funded by outside sources.
In the aftermath, the staff busied themselves with cleaning and sorting out of books from the collection of 60,000 books that the library had in stock before Hurricane Irma.

In total, 2000 books have been lost, while many other books are in bad condition. The building had never been the ideal environment for the housing of books, however, under the current conditions and also with passing of Hurricane Maria on September 9th, 2017, the rain fall and the humidity the unfavorable conditions are causing the books to further deteriorate.

The Philipsburg Jubilee Library was able to open her doors to the general public on Tuesday October 24th, 2017 with new opening times and adjusted opening times from 9 am to 5pm. It had been two challenging months to allow the staff and volunteers to complete the necessary clean up and repairs.

As a temporary solution to accommodate the loyal patrons, the entrance hall was turned into a library hall with a limited capacity, showcasing a sample of all collections. This was created, because the rest of the library had to be closed off due to the damage.

Support & Donations
Assistance came from near and far, Rotary Sun Rise, Foundation for Secondary Education, SVOBE, and additional volunteers participated by either cleaning or offering a temporary office space for the staff to meet;

Youth at Risk: finding Solutions together

On Thursday June 29th, 2017, Rotary District 7020 in collaboration with the Philipsburg Jubilee Library held a consultation meeting of peace and conflict resolution at the Library in the Media Lab by Rotary Club of St. Martin Sunrise. The meeting was a joint collaborative effort of the youth group stake holders throughout the island.

The focus groups were there to collectively determine the disadvantages, challenges, provide solutions, and assist parents, guardians, care takers and teachers in providing a safe and nurturing environment for the children who are left alone to “fend for themselves”. And also to create positive activities for the children. To prevent them from getting involved in delinquent behaviors.

Presenter Tom Burnett aka Coach Tom promoted A.R.T ~ Anger Replacement Training. A training that is geared toward assisting children with controlling their anger, learn social skills, and moral reasoning. In addition, a documentary on A.R.T was viewed on preparation to providing skills to assist children with methods that helps reduce anger/anger management skills such as thinking before they reached to the final action, to think about something that calms them down and deep breathing and counting backward from 20 to 1 which assists in the slowing of the pulse.
Caribbean Well-Being Conference:

In 2017, the library’s Children’s Librarian attended the Caribbean Well-Being Conference (CWBC) in St. Maarten that took place from 6-8 August.

The CWBC seeks to promote the positive development and well-being of children, parents, families, schools and communities. The CWBC aims to inform and educate on best practices to promote children’s well-being by looking at the important role that parents, families, teachers, schools, and communities play in the promotion of well-adjusted, socially and emotionally competent youth.

The CWBC will offer workshops, and conferences that bring academics, practitioners and families together to discuss best practices in addressing the current needs of youth and families in the Caribbean and those of Caribbean descent.
